

WAR AFFECTS LINEN

J. M'BRATNEY SAYS FLAX SUPPLIES FROM BELGIUM AND RUSSIA ARE FAILING

"Up to the present," said Mr. McBratney, proprietor of the Irish Linen store, to a representative of The Glendale Evening News, "I have been able to secure all the linen supplies I have needed and the war has not affected my buying in that respect; but I foresee a time when there is bound to be a falling off in the supply of flax from Russia and from Belgium. Indeed, I believe that the supplies from both those countries are already affected."

"Most of the flax used in the manufacture of linen comes from those two countries. Of course, there are other sources of supply, but they are precarious. Those have been the steady markets for years. The north of Ireland still grows flax, but the quantity grown is not nearly sufficient for the purposes of the world's markets."

"The North of Ireland enjoys a climate that is peculiarly favorable to the preparation of flax and the bleaching process. There is something in the atmosphere that aids in the bleaching process. The water, too, has peculiar properties that make it suitable for this purpose. So much is this the case that even the continental flax is sent there in quantities to be bleached and prepared."

"There are indications that if the war should continue much longer the prices of linens will be considerably affected. This has not been the case as yet; but there is a rising tendency in prices. I, therefore, consider myself fortunate to have secured the large stock I have on hand before that rise has come. My shelves are full and I have a large consignment of the finest linens and linens of all sorts on the way and have been able to secure them at reasonable prices."

"I had long experience in the linen trade in the north of Ireland and I know the trade in its every phase. There is a great deal in knowing where to buy. That knowledge can only be acquired at first hand on the ground where the linens are manufactured. I deal with a dozen different firms, purchasing some linens from one and some from others."

"From the famous Belfast firm of John Shaw Brown I get the world-known 'Shamrock Brand' of napkins and tablecloths and other articles. In each piece is woven small shamrocks, the distinguishing mark of this manufacture. It cannot be excelled in particular lines of goods. Handkerchiefs I get from other firms. Others excel in tablecloths. So it goes. The knowledge of where to buy to best advantage is an asset in this business."

"As I have stated, Russia has been unable to plant much flax recently. Her men are at the front in millions. Belgium is reduced to practical idleness. It can easily be seen, therefore, that linens are going to go up. Those who have not been aware of these conditions are going to get a disagreeable surprise some of these days. Owing to my forethought I am able just now to sell linens practically at normal prices, and I am in a position to give the public better value than the stores in Los Angeles on account of my intimate knowledge of the market in Ireland and because I import direct and am not dependent on New York firms. The running expenses of this store, too, are naturally smaller than those of Los Angeles stores, and I can therefore afford to sell at lower prices, while from my specialized knowledge of the linen markets I am able to sell better goods than many who have not had my experience."

"Business has been specially good in this store of late. So much is this the case that I am planning to get additional help. The growth of business demands it. This store is also now equipped to fill special orders for hemming and for hemstitching, and also monogramming. We also make a specialty of making children's garments. From all indications a prosperous year is before this trade."

KILLED AT BURBANK

Arthur R. Ely, a youth of 18 years, who lived with his mother at 1451 La Prada Park, Los Angeles, was killed Sunday night by colliding with a telegraph pole while riding a motorcycle. He was going so fast that when he came to the turn in the road he could not manage the turn. He was carried into a Burbank house, where he died within an hour. Ely had been out with Ray Swearington and Sam Hamilton, his companions, for a spin on San Fernando road. The body was brought to Pulliam's Undertaking establishment, whence it will be taken Tuesday to Long Beach, for service and interment. Ely's parents came to California eleven years ago and he has been resident in this neighborhood ever since.

FORM PACKER CLUB

TWO THOUSAND MEMBERS TO WORK FOR STEPHEN C. PACKER FOR SUPERVISOR

At a largely attended meeting Saturday night, in the Chamber of Commerce, the Stephen C. Packer Supervisorial Club of San Fernando Valley was organized for the campaign for that office. Those present had come from various parts of the San Fernando valley and were enthusiastic in their support of their candidate, who is thus launched on his canvass for office with strong prospects of success.

At the outset of the proceedings Mr. T. W. Watson, City Manager of Glendale, called the meeting to order and Mr. George B. Woodberry was elected permanent chairman of the organization; C. O. Pulliam, first vice-president; A. T. Cowan, second vice-president. Other vice-presidents will be chosen from various sections of the valley. Charles Grist was appointed recording secretary; R. M. Jackson, corresponding secretary, and Ernest Kimball, treasurer.

Mr. T. W. Watson was appointed chairman of committee on speakers, with power to choose other members; John Roman was appointed chairman of the finance committee, also with power to choose his own committee. W. L. Nelson was appointed chairman of committee on registration. Mr. Albert D. Pearce was chosen chairman of the executive committee.

Mr. George B. Woodberry made an illuminating address in which he said that he had had a personal interview with Mr. Packer on the subject of his candidature and had learned that he possessed all the qualifications necessary for the office—a well-balanced mind, natural aptitude for business and a successful business career, carefulness in spending money and yet no niggardliness when it should be necessary to spend it for the public good. He thought Mr. Packer an ideal candidate.

The club starts out with a membership of 2090—all united, all enthusiastic and all determined to bring the supervisorship to Glendale.

Replying to the complimentary references of the evening Mr. Packer said:

My Friends and Fellow Citizens of San Fernando Valley: It is impossible for me to express my feelings of gratitude, as well as elation, over this renewed demonstration of favor. It was difficult to realize that so many of you entertained this kindly feeling for me, until notification came to me that about 2000 names of residents of this valley had been signed to a petition asking me to try for the nomination of Supervisor of Los Angeles County from the 5th District, and, my friends, it gave me a thrill of pleasure that I will never forget.

The district is large, consisting of 39 precincts in Los Angeles city, all of South Pasadena, Highland Park, Garvanza, Annandale, Eagle Rock, large portions of North Pasadena; Altadena, taking in the range of hills, on our North and West, past Lancaster to the Ventura County line.

Covering such a vast territory of more than a hundred miles you will see that it is no small task we have before us, and to reach all parts of the district it will be necessary for my friends as well as myself to improve each shining hour if we wish to meet with success. L. A. County is as large in area as some of our states of the Union and our Supervisors have the control of an expenditure exceeding 16 million dollars a year and to get the best results from this vast outlay of money, our representative should be a careful and capable business man, and accustomed to careful investments that will result in the maintaining and upbuilding of our county.

The most that I can say is that I have met with fair success in my own business and if careful and close attention to your affairs will accomplish the desired results I can promise you to do all in my power. "Progress with Economy" will be my slogan. I have lived in your midst a number of years and in my life experience have never met a brighter or more capable set of people than those that reside in Southern California. If elected to this office it will always be easy to see me and talk of the various enterprises to benefit the County.

I also pledge myself here and now, if elected, to carry out the laws and wishes of the people, so far as lies in my province.

MORE GOVERNMENT SEEDS

ENTIRELY IN THE DARK

CITY MANAGER WATSON SHOWS NATURE OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE'S CIRCULAR

In regard to a certain circular which was distributed after dark Sunday night signed "Executive Committee, Glendale Municipal League," we desire to say that we have no quarrel with these persons, whoever they are. We believe, however, even if they did not want to distribute their circular in daylight, they should have at least signed their names to it.

This is purely a business proposition for the people of Glendale to settle by their votes tomorrow, and cannot be covered up by the handful of mud contained in the Municipal League circular.

We will pass over that statement about City Trustees wanting to get their hands on the public purse, as being unworthy of reply. We regard the character of our City Trustees too highly to even think that they need defense from such cowardly attacks; all because they saw fit to place before the people of Glendale for their consideration, the question of fire and storm protection.

There should be no misunderstanding in regard to the present fire apparatus. It is a standard machine such as nearly every city in Southern California has bought, and has saved the people of Glendale many times its cost. Within the last year a Junior pump of two hundred and fifty gallons capacity per minute has been perfected, and these pumps are being installed on similar machines. It will cost about $1500.00 to equip our present machine with one of these Junior pumps and make a few other changes. With these additions, this machine will be fully equal to the most modern apparatus of its capacity.

It would be extremely hazardous to depend upon one fire-fighting apparatus for a city the size of Glendale. It is proposed in addition to adding a small pump to the machine we now have to purchase a large auto pump of from eight hundred to a thousand gallons' capacity per minute. Our business district has reached such proportions that a machine of such capacity is absolutely indispensable, and we cannot expect our Fire Department to give adequate service unless such apparatus is provided.

That statement in regard to the city bonds is very misleading. While it is true that there are $385,125 city bonds outstanding, only $39,375 are to be taken account of in this connection, as the remaining $245,750.55 are entirely taken care of by the Public Service Department. The City bond tax rate this year is for the original city—12 1/4 cents, and for the annexed portions, 7 cents, which is about the lowest city bond tax rate of any city the size of Glendale, in Southern California.

In regard to the school bonds, I do not believe that even the Municipal League would advocate the cancelling of these bonds and abolishing our splendid schools.

The matter of alleged junk was all fought out in the electric light and water bond campaigns, and should be a closed chapter in the city history. The people of Glendale knew just what was going to be done with these bonds when they authorized their issue.

Does the Municipal League believe that we should cancel these bonds and give up our Municipal water and lighting system?

In regard to the proposed County bond issue for storm protection, those who are best informed on these matters know that it will be several years before protection work such as is needed by Glendale along the Verdugo Wash will be undertaken by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District. The proposed county bond issue talked of at this time is for conservation work in the mountains, rights of way along the various wash channels, and work at the Los Angeles Harbor. The resolution passed by the Board of Supervisors and published in the Glendale Evening News of last Saturday, makes it entirely clear that there is no danger of our having to pay for this work again should like work be done by the County later on.

As City Officials, we have done what we believe is our duty in bringing these matters before the voters of Glendale for their consideration, and the responsibility now rests with the people of Glendale as to whether or no we shall have this additional fire and flood protection.

T. W. WATSON,
City Manager.

EIGHTY FOUR YEARS

MRS. ROBERT MORRIS HONORED GUEST AT BIRTHDAY PARTY AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

In celebration of her 84th birthday, Mrs. Chas. E. Stanley entertained with a beautiful dinner for her mother, Mrs. Robert H. Morris, at the Stanley home, 336 Everett street, Saturday evening, January 8.

Mrs. Morris says that she not alone celebrates her natal day but "Jackson Day" as well, for it was on this same date that New Orleans was taken from the British by Gen. Jackson, consequently the attractive floral decoration gracing the table center was made up of red, white and blue blossoms.

When the dessert course was served a most wonderful birthday cake was placed before the honoree. Resting upon the snow-like top of the cake was a spray of sugared violets in purple and foliage of green. On the other half of this marvel of confection were the dates 1832-1916, in violet hues and retained in white roses formed from sugar, were the 84 wee lavender lighted tapers marking each yearly milestone passed. Seated with Mrs. Morris were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Stanley, presiding, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown and father, Mr. Baxter, old friends of the birthday child, and Mr. Morris Andrews, a grandson.

Many gifts, letters and beautiful floral offerings were received by Mrs. Morris during the day.

SIGNS IN THE HEAVENS?

Editor Glendale Evening News: I wonder how many Glendallians looked upon the glorious sunset of Jan. 5. Just as the God of Day sank to rest behind the western mountain line there appeared in the deep blue sky from northeast to southwest, far as the eye could reach, a perfect arch—not a rainbow but one in rosy pink, tinted by the hand of our Master Artist. Clear and beautiful it was for a short time. Here and there were fleecy clouds, in tint of French grey and others like the petals of a peach tree. In the far horizon dark grey storm clouds piled up against the bluest of skies. All this made a sunset of grandeur seldom seen.

Could this arch mean "Peace?" Many months ago, at midday, the sun was encircled by an immense disc of steel light, lasting about one hour, and "old heads" predicted war. It came, and Europe is one vast battlefield.

Before the Civil War, in the '60s, just such a strange omen was clearly seen at midday and the darkies said "War!" It came. Are these signs in the heavens? "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform." M. W. M.

UP-TO-MINUTE COMEDY AT PALACE GRAND

"A Bachelor's Romance" by Martha Morton will be the attraction at the Palace Grand Theatre for two nights this week, Thursday, the 13th, and Friday, the 14th, under the auspices of the Masonic bodies.

The story is that of a bachelor, who is finally roused to the fact that he really lives, and is a mere man after all, by a young girl, Sylvia, his ward. It is a sparkling comedy, full of bright lines and humorous situations, ably handled by a well-chosen cast. Chas. L. Peckham in the role of David, the bachelor, can't be anything else but "good" and Gladys Justema proves herself a charming, though wilful, ward.

Under the careful and untiring directorship of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Marks the play has been whipped into fine shape and ere the opening performance on Thursday evening there is no chance for any rough edges.

COMPANY OF TRAMPS

Four Mexicans, Jose Condegas, Jesus Naballo, Trinidad Saldado and Francisco Fontes, tramps, were found sleeping in the packing house at the corner of First and Glendale avenue, Sunday night. They were arrested and taken to jail. Monday morning the four, who may thank the police for giving them dry quarters throughout the night, were arraigned before Judge Whomes, who warned them and ordered them to leave town at once. They left in great haste, glad to escape so easily.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Due to the box office at the Palace Grand Theater being closed during the day, the management of "A Bachelor's Romance" wish to announce that tickets may be exchanged from 7:30 a. m. until 6 p. m. at the Cornwell and Kelly Hardware store, 407 Brand boulevard, and at the theater during the evening hours.

SPLENDID GENEROSITY OF UNITED STATES

No nation ever has been so lavishly generous in giving away its natural resources as the United States. Within fifty years this country has given in subsidies to the railways public lands that exceeded in size a territory seven times as large as the State of Pennsylvania. The States have received for the sustaining of their schools and other public institutions an amount that records do not accurately show; but it is known that thirteen western states were given more than 67,000,000 acres. In addition the Federal government gave to the States all the swamp and overflowed land within their borders, amounting to 64,000,000 acres by roughest approximation, upon condition that they would use the proceeds to reclaim the lands, a condition which, it may be stated, has only in part been complied with.

When the great Civil war was over the problem of doing something for the men who had fought through the many campaigns and who were to be mustered out of service, arose. That problem was easily solved. The country had an enormous wealth in lands. It offered farms to the million veterans, and better use was never made of any land. Even to this day "soldiers' scrip" is recognized and is filed to secure choice bits of forest lands or power sites.

To add to its generosity the United States called in the people of the world and tendered them homes, until now, out of an acreage within the United States of a full billion and a half acres of public domain, there is left as public lands subject to disposal as homesteads, and otherwise, less than 280,000,000 acres, not one-half of which, it may safely be said, will ever prove to be cultivable. There passed out of the office of the Secretary of the Interior, last year, 61,979 patents to land, some for 160 acres—donations from the Nation to courageous pioneers.

Further proof of the generosity of the United States is to be seen in the fact that any man who finds gold, or silver, or iron, or lead, or copper, or any other of the so-called metalliferous minerals, has it for the asking, without money and without price. The United States also expends $1,500,000 a year in the making of geological and other studies of the country that the people may know what is to be found in the ground.

All the revenue from the sale of public lands goes into a fund for the building of irrigation works to reclaim the desert. A hundred million dollars has been spent in this way, which is, however, only a loan to the farmers. The United States said to the States, "If you will irrigate the lands of your state, or if there are private individuals who will do this work, we will give you whatever land you desire up to a million acres each and set it apart for ten years while you try the experiment." Yet but a small portion of these lands was ever called for by the States, and a still smaller portion has been irrigated.

Was there ever a more generous method taken for populating and developing a new land? In doing all this the government has been expressing the generous instinct of the people and their absorbing determination to "go forth and find."

For a hundred years and a little more this quest has been the drama of the national life. It has given color to the civilization of this country and buoyancy to the hearts of the people. It has been a century of revelation, and as yet there has been acquired only the most superficial knowledge of what the land is, of what it will yield to research and how it may best be used. Its development has only begun.

DEARTH OF NATURAL FERTILIZERS

America's farming and other industries are confronted with a serious situation in reference to the supply of potash, phosphate and nitrogen. As a result of the embargo placed by the German government on the exportation of potash, the supply of this substance has been entirely cut off. Under normal conditions, sulphuric acid, which is required for making superphosphates, is sold for $5 or $6 a ton. Since the outbreak of the war in Europe the price has risen to $25 a ton. There is no diminution in the nitrogen supply.

In 1913 when conditions were normal about $125,280,000 worth of commercial fertilizers was used by the United States. Of this amount the farmer paid $48,830,000 for nitrogenous substances, $56,000,000 for phosphates and $20,450,000 for potash salts. Practically all the potash salts were imported from Germany and the entire quantity of nitrate of soda came from Chile. Ammonium sulphate to the value of $3,720,000 came from England. A small quantity of fertilizing material was obtained in this country.

There is practically no potash in this country at the present time for fertilizer use. The small quantities that were held over from former years are now priced at from eight to twelve times their normal value. The investigations of the Geological Survey department have shown the possibility of producing from American sources an ample supply of potash salts for domestic consumption.

One of the sources of this supply is the alunite deposits in the mountains of Utah; another is the feldspathic rocks of the eastern part of the United States. What interests the people of Southern California most, however, is the fact that there are vast deposits at their doors. On the sea coast enormous beds of giant kelp exist. They are the favorite lurking places of immense shoals of fish that find much natural food there. Every storm casts more or less of this enormous tree seaweed on the shore; piles it up in caves and yet the banks are never denuded.

In these kelp beds are enormous riches. Those who have capital to handle this natural wealth have here, before their eyes, one of the greatest of natural deposits, out of which countless millions of dollars will yet be coined. The value of the natural seaweed has long been known. For centuries past on the west coast of Ireland and on the west coast of Scotland, the poor cottars might have been seen toiling up the cliffs with loads of this natural manure for their fields. It is rich in natural salts. Its potash content has ideal mechanical properties for use in mixed fertilizers.

The problems of turning this crude material into carefully prepared commercial fertilizer are being perfected every day. Companies for the exploitation of the seaweed have sprung up all along the southern Pacific coast and fortunes are about to be made in this industry.

In addition to this Southern California has out on the Mojave desert one of the richest natural potash deposits in the world. This is the famous Searles lake, which has already taken its toll of human life in the fight that is being made for its possession. There are a number of technical problems to be solved in connection with the development of the potash deposits of this vast area. These are certain to afford little obstacle to the scientific skill of those engaged in the research. The great difficulty is settling in whom the title of the lake is vested. While that question is being threshed out in the courts the great deposit lies unused. Some of these days, however, it will be opened up and its vast natural wealth utilized. In this way Southern California is certain to exercise a profound influence not only on the future of agriculture but also of many other industries.

There never was a greater case of bungling stupidity in war than the attempt of the British to force the Dardanelles. The men evinced the utmost bravery and held an almost impossible position with marvelous tenacity. Their leaders, however, seem not to have known their own minds and to have hesitated and let the psychological moment pass when it might have been possible to break through the Turks' internments. There was, too, unpardonable slackness in the administration of the expedition as far as the home authorities were concerned. They were not prepared with the necessary reinforcements when they were asked for. Above all, the commander of the expedition, Sir Ian Hamilton, seems to have displayed that inexplicable British indifference to mistakes and fatal blunders of which he was perfectly aware, for he describes them at length, which is characteristic of British military mismanagement, and which has cost that nation so dearly in every war. They will doubtless "muddle through" in the end, but it will apparently be at an unpardonable cost in men who were deserving of a better fate than to be slaughtered to demonstrate nothing more than the inefficiency that reigns in British high places.

COLORED BLOUSES

That the two-piece suit often does duty as a three-piece suit by the addition of a blouse of diaphanous materials and matching in color is evidenced on all sides, for many tailors are advertising that blouses will be made to match any suit just as the various shops have on sale blouses in all the wanted colors, such as African brown, midnight blue, Russian green and, of course, black and black and white. A bit of hand embroidery, a bit of metallic lace, probably a bit of the suit and behold a blouse that looks for all the world as if the suit had been built around it instead of quite the other way round—Detroit Free Press.

California's orchards and grain fields are rivaling its mines in rich value of production. This is a state of diversified natural riches, in process of development.

USES FOR CRACKED JARS

Save the cracked fruit jars for such things as candied fruit, tapioca, prunes, rice, cereals, raisins, coconut, yeast cakes, lemon, etc. Staple articles, if kept in glass jars, will always be clean and fresh, as no dust can get into them. Then, too, there's no need looking into all the packages in the pantry for the article wanted, for one can see what's in the jar without opening it.

Lemons and cheese kept in airtight jars will be fresh until used. Nutmegs, spices, grated orange peel also keep their flavor and strength. Cracked jelly glasses with covers can be used for these.—Dallas Morning News.

No mere child should be permitted to drive an automobile. No person should have charge of a machine who is not mature enough in years and sound enough in judgment not to be a public menace.

CHARACTER

Character is not measured by words and deeds alone. It would be comparatively easy to gain a strong and clean character if it were only a question of the control we exercise over what we say and do. Every man ought to know that his attainments in character are measured by what he is when he is alone with his thoughts.—Charles Trumbull.

PERSONALS

Miss May Ramsey of Covina spent
all day Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Grace Rottner, of 1545 Myrtle
street.

Miss Ray Davis and Mr. Frank Lit-tell were Sunday guests at the parental home of Miss Ruth Brown, 1620 Stocker street.

On Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Young of Los Angeles had as dinner guests
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Archer.

Miss Agnes Frostick, domiciled with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Bannock, spent Sunday with the E. Brewsters
in their Pasadena home.

Mrs. Earl Naudain had as a recent guest and visitor Mrs. Nina Clement, an old schoolmate formerly of Iowa,
and now of Washington, D. C.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Vesper of 907 Lomita avenue entertained a very dear friend in the person of Miss Nellie Taylor from Algona,
Iowa, spending the winter in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245
Maryland street had as dinner guests in their home on Sunday Dr. and Mrs. James Luther Flint and young son, Master Rhinard Wells Flint.

Mrs. Scott, mother of Miss Nellie Scott and James Scott, is convalescing at the home, 315 South Glendale avenue, after a long, hard siege of la grippe.

The management of "A Bachelor's Romance" wish to announce that ticket exchanges will be made at the Cornwell-Kelty Hardware store, 407
Brand boulevard.

The many friends of Mrs. C. Irving Mills will be delighted to learn that after her illness, covering the past ten weeks, she is able to sit up a few hours during each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bannock of 920 Lomita avenue entertained Mr. and Mrs. Symansky at dinner on Sunday, motoring over to San Fernando Mission during the afternoon.

Miss Lillian Young of Los Angeles
was a week-end guest of Miss George Duffet at 1008 Chestnut street. On Saturday evening Miss Duffet also entertained Mr. Robert Conklin and Mr. John Forman of Los Angeles.

The D. H. Smiths entertained friends at dinner in their home at 146 South Maryland street on Sunday. Included were Mr. and Mrs.
Howard Johnson of San Diego, Mrs.
Havens and the Perry Millers of Marcus, Iowa, wintering here at a Los Angeles hostelry.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Stamps of 1306 Lomita avenue entertained at two delightfully informal affairs yesterday. At dinner were Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Childers and small son from Los Angeles, while the tea guests included Mr. and Mrs. Perce Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Conrad, 1433 Burchett street, entertained at a charming dinner party, Sunday.
Miss Julia Bell, sister of Mrs. Conrad,
Mr. Arthur Harold, Miss A. Campbell and Mr. Price, all of Los Angeles; also Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Lauler of Burchett street. The dining-room was beautifully decorated in Christmas colors.

Recent among the arrivals in Glendale, registered at the Woods Hotel, are Mr. and Mrs. E. Rear and family of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wilson and son, Los Angeles; Mrs. Edwin Hayes, Los Angeles; E. V. Todd
of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. F.
W. Kille and son Eugene, the latter expecting to make Glendale their future home.

FOR MISS ORSATTI

Miss Estella Orsatti of Los Angeles furnished the motif for a beautifully appointed dinner, with Mr.
Harry Coker, Jr., as host, on Sunday evening. Decorations were Cecil Bruner buds and fern fronds used in profusion.

In addition to Miss Orsatti, those seated at the resplendent board were Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Coker, parents of the host, Mrs. Georgia Miller, his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Julliff, Miss Madeline Frink, Miss Esther Sinclair, Miss Alice McCoy, Mrs. Alfred Harter, Mr. Albert Thomson,
Mr. John McCoy and Mr. Arthur Palmer. A delightful musical program filled the evening hours.

Dr. Raymond Ludden, who has been located at 414 S. Brand boulevard during the past year, has moved his office and residence to 345 S.
Orange street, corner of Broadway.

"A BACHELOR'S ROMANCE" AGAIN

Stars have long been known to have their peculiarities. Mr. Charles L. Peckham, most brilliant luminary of the "Bachelor's Romance" constellation, has one, and, having just discovered it, is very proud of it.

Be it known that directors have a habit of starting a rehearsal with the first act which strikes their fancy.
Upon this occasion, Mr. Marks decided to start with the third act and work both ways—but Mr. Peckham could not remember his part. He floundered and stalled and sidestepped. Finally he started for home, saying that he was positive they were rehearsing the wrong play.

The explanation is very simple.
Mr. Peckham is of a very logical turn of mind. He knew the play started with the first act and ended with the fourth—something that cannot be said of all modern dramas—and, logically, he couldn't remember the lines in any other sequence. So everything is lovely now. The star trips off his lines with a smile like a beam of California sunshine—and there will be no danger of an entire change of program at the second performance, as everyone feared.

Mr. Peckham says he fears he is too young a man to portray a character of forty years of age—and he has a daughter who looks and, no doubt, feels almost grown up. Lucky man! We envy his youth! His remark reminds one of two well known aphorisms, "A man is as young as he feels," and "Never say die."

And remember, the show comes off
next Thursday and Friday nights.

TROPICO

The Boy Scouts of Tropico proved themselves royal hosts Friday evening, when they entertained a number of their friends at the home of one of their members, Robert Burke, on North Central avenue. Mrs. W. E.
Burke, mother of the young host, arranged pretty and artistic decorations of roses throughout the home.
Music, games and dancing furnished an interesting evening's entertainment.

The guests of the Scouts included
Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt W. Ludden, Mr. and Mrs. A. J.
Frankland, Mr. Dwight Stephenson
and mother, Mrs. Andy Stephenson, Misses Marjorie Imley, Cecelia Lyons,
Lila Shea, Eloise Seaman, Elizabeth
Mason, Susie Kahl, Muriel Turner, Blanche Cramer, Lela Weeks and Marian Kennedy.

The young Scouts who were such entertaining hosts were Robert Burke, Harold Benner, Harold Kennedy, Ralph Ballenger, Leslie Keppler, Robert Cammack, Frank Myers, Walter Kahl, Frank Burke, Russell
Harrison, Ted Harrison, Ralph Sal-
strom, Kermit Weeks, Neville Richardson, Billy Burke, Rudolph Kahl, Harold Shim, Carl Paine and Thaddeus Greenfield.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker has called a meeting at her home, 115 S. Glendale avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the representatives from each society or organization to formulate plans and make arrangements for the card party to be given for the benefit of the municipal play grounds.

DOLL'S HOUSE

Mothers who have little girls might profit by this recommendation: Buy a large box from your grocer, put legs under it and nail three shelves inside. Use the first shelf as a kitchen, the second as a dining room and the third as a bedroom. Then furnish the little rooms after a visit to the 5 and 10-cent store. The doll's house can be kept out of the way in a corner of a room.—Syracuse Journal.

BROADWAY AND GLENDALE
AVENUE

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Ethel B. Land of 305 North Maryland avenue entertained complimentary to Miss Maysie McCann, the gracious daughter of Mrs. W. P.
McCann, of 833 Campbell street,
whose engagement to Edwin Stau-sacker was announced during the evening in a most charming manner.
The house was beautifully decorated with pink carnations and ferns and five hundred was played, five tables being arranged, and the score cards were cute little kewpie brides. The highest score was won by Miss Celia Wilson, while Miss Harriett Nichols received the consolation prize, the gift for the guest of honor was a beautiful set of nut baskets. The luncheon table was very lovely, an artistically arranged bouquet of the fragrant blossoms graced the center and the dainty favors were dear little baskets in the form of pink rose buds filled with tiny candies, which also held the pretty card that announced the engagement, which came as a great surprise to the guests, who learned that the wedding would be in the early summer. The guests who enjoyed the delightful occasion were the Misses Mattie Belle Provolt, Bessie Provolt, Birdie Shropshire, Lillian Shropshire, Celia Wilson, Arline Hallahan, Pauline Shotty, Lillian Mills, Frances Jackson, Gertrude
Chaplain, Harriett Nichols, Margaret Nichols, Amy Bowerfind, Lillian Mills, Athena Purt, Olga Purt, Bessie Phillips, Grace Crampton,
Irene Read, Ethel Read, Agnes Fro-
stick, Mrs. C. W. Peck, Mrs. Frae Morse Wells and Mrs. J. L. Flint, all of Glendale; and Miss Tillie Thompson of Los Angeles. The charming hostess was assisted in entertaining
by her mother, Mrs. F. B. Land, Miss Celia Wilson and Miss Irene Read.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eichelberger of North Maryland avenue entertained as their guests very recently,
the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Edwin Eichelberger, from Chicago, Ill., who are spending the winter in Los Angeles and are domiciled in the Bixel Apartments.

Mrs. R. C. Whitten of 1500 Kenneth Road entertained as her guests at a prettily appointed luncheon last Friday, Mrs. R. Rivers of Los Angeles, Mrs. Horton of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Harris of Vernon,
Mich., the latter ladies are touring California and are spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Mr. Burt Wilson of Los Angeles spent Sunday with his brother and family, Mr. James M. Wilson, Jr., of 1636 Ruth street.

Miss Agnes Scott of San Fernando Road spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Olive Wright of 1649 Ruth
street.

Mrs. H. C. Lynn of 329 Cedar St.
was the guest of her daughter, Mrs.
James W. Cooper, for the day, last Saturday.

Mr. J. Bentley of Long Beach spent the week-end with his son and family, Mr. George H. Bentley, of 1310 Burchett street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Phister are rejoicing over the arrival of a beautiful baby girl, born Dec. 28, who weighed eight and one-half pounds,
and has been given the name of Charlotte Isabel. Both mother and little one are doing nicely.

Mrs. S. W. Corwin of 419 North Central avenue returned home last Monday from Monterey, Cal., where she spent three weeks with her daughter and family, Mrs. and Dr.
Lieutenant H. O. Scott, U. S. A., who are at present stationed at the presido.

Mrs. Parke Arnold and little son
Keith of Nebraska avenue, Long Beach, were guests of Mrs. George H.
Bentley of 1310 Burchett street during the past week.

Charles W. Cooper arrived here last Monday from Nashville, Tenn., and will spend the winter with his brother and family, Mr. J. M. Cooper of 1017 Melrose avenue. Mr. Cooper is a musician of repute and has secured a position as pipe organist in one of the Clune theaters in Los Angeles.

Miss Lucille Pittman of 1001 North Pacific avenue was the guest of Miss Marjorie Hershey of West Thirty-sixth street, Los Angeles, last Saturday evening at a dinner dance. Other guests who enjoyed the delightful occasion included Miss Ruth Neal, Mr. Guy Gilcrest, Mr. Edward Burroughs and Mr. Don Lilly, all of Los Angeles.

J. STITT WILSON TO SPEAK

J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, now conducting a work of evangelism, has opened a series of meetings in Los Angeles, at Blanchard hall. Sunday afternoon he spoke to an attentive audience, and also spoke at the South Park Christian church. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of next week he will speak at the same church. Speaking of his work Mr. Wilson said:
"The greatest need of the world is not more education, nor more armaments, nor more inventions, nor more social or political platforms. The great need is a spiritual awakening akin to that of the Reformation or to that of the Wesleyan revival—a revival that will stir men's hearts to put into actual practice the life and teaching of Jesus Christ."

The United States is in serious need of protection against intemperate speech in congress.

FIRST OF ENTERTAINMENTS

Under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon club, a series of entertainments will be provided for the public of Glendale without any charge being made for admission. These entertainments will be of a high-class order.
The first of the series will be given in the Glendale Union High School, Monday evening, as already intimated. The entertainment will be in charge of the College of Oratory and the College of Music of the University of Southern California. Other entertainments will be given from week to week by Occidental College, Throop College of Technology, the University of Redlands, Pomona College and others. The public is cordially invited to enjoy the pleasing program tonight.

QUESTION OF GOOD FAITH

Editor Glendale Evening News:
In the article by City Manager Watson, published in The Evening News, Jan. 7, he says, "Should there be a levy covering the whole county for similar work, the City of Glendale would be reimbursed for its outlay."
How about the taxpayers in Road
District No. 1 of Bairdstown? According to the accounts in the Los Angeles daily papers the promises are not being fulfilled. There the property owners are assessed $26.15 for every $100 of valuation.

H. M. McQUOWN.

Y. P. B. TO MEET

The Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Miss Vivian Engle, 340 W. Fifth street, Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'- clock. It is expected that the new State Superintendent, A. L. Hollinger, of Pasadena, will be present and a full attendance is requested.

TO EMBROIDER ROSE DESIGN

If the rose motifs are conventional develop the design is even round eye-lets. This is a new and extremely attractive way to embroider conventional patterns. Mark dots at regular intervals along the outline of the design, the division of the petals, the veins, in fact, every point of the outline. Set the stiletto gauge for small eyelets, punch and work. If you do not have a gauge stiletto be careful to make the eyelets the same size. All white would be best for a design embroidered in this way.
You could carry the work by making one motif in all eyelet and the other in satin stitch and seeding, the eyelets motifs giving a sort of shadow effect.

The eyelets that end the point of a leaf may be made smaller than the others, but otherwise it would be best to keep them equal.—Ottawa Citizen.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of Glorieta School District, of the County of Los Angeles,
State of California, that, in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, an election will be held on the 17TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1916,
at the school house in said District,
between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6
p. m. (during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open), at which election the question of issuing and selling bonds of said District to the amount of One Thousand Dollars, for the purpose of raising money for refunding valid outstanding indebtedness of said District, as evidenced by warrants thereof, will be voted upon.

The said bonds thereunder to be issued and sold shall be of the denomination of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars each and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be numbered from 1 to 4 consecutively, payable as follows, to-wit:

Bond No. 1, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 1 year
Bond No. 2, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 2 years.
Bond No. 3, Two Hundred and
Fifty Dollars, to run 3 years.
Bond No. 4, Two Hundred and
Fifty Dollars, to run 4 years.

That F. M. Ashby will act as Inspector, and Chas. Dean and J. F.
Rockey will act as the Judges of said
election and conduct the same, said Inspector and Judges being competent and qualified electors of said School District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands this 22nd day of December, 1915.

A. F. WELLS,
PHILIP BEGUE,
B. F. KEARNEY,
Trustees of said School District, Los Angeles, County, California.

LITTLELANDS

Miss McKee of San Ysidro road gave a dinner party New Year's day to several guests. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mehard and Miss Mary Lewis.

Mrs. Crandal of Salinas, Monterey county, who has been the guest during the holidays of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenfield of Sunset boulevard, departed for her home last Monday.

Little Bernice Marston has come to make her home for a while with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marston, and her little sister Loraine, of Sunset boulevard.

Mrs. Italia Baker, who spends most of her time in the city, was at her place on San Ysidro road over New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Strackengast, old friends of Col. Buck in Montana, are spending this week enjoying the hospitality of the Buck home in Littlelands.

"Buster" Brown, whose address is now Tia Juana, Mexico, arrived in Sunland to spend the New Year with friends.

Miss Mildred Corey has just graduated from the State Normal with high honors and was entertained over the holidays at a house party at Philip Beque's of near Littlelands and at Pete Lopez's of San Fernando.

Miss Gai of Santa Monica was a house guest in the home of Philip Beque last week.

Mrs. C. O. Crandal of Soledad, Cal., who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenfield, returned to her home on Wednesday of this week.

Among those registered the past week at the Monte Vista tavern were the following: Miss Alfretha Spah, Mrs. Arthur Temple, Chas. Long, Miss Barnes and Bert Richards, all of Los Angeles; "Buster" Brown of Tia Juana and Walter Medcalf of Glendale.

Miss Alice Case has been promoted to a position in the auditor's office in Los Angeles at an advanced salary. This is a civil service position and the promotion is one well deserved.

Mrs. Shaner was an invited guest at a Christmas party given by the juvenile court to its proteges at San Bernardino last week.

Miss Annie C. Peck of Monte Vista boulevard went to Los Angeles New Year's afternoon to attend a reception at the Home of Truth, 802 S. Union avenue. She was the guest of Mrs. Annie Rix Miltz and remained till Monday afternoon.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather last Sunday the Sunday school and federation services were but meagerly attended. There was no service in the evening.

Dr. Kearney has just completed the weather boarding of a new roof on Miss Peck's little bungalow. The improvement adds much to the coziness and attractiveness of the place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hubbard returned Wednesday of last week from spending Xmas with Mrs. Hubbard's sister's family, the Haggerties, at Long Beach. On their way home they spent the night at Los Angeles.

Pigeon Club

The Pigeon club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malona on Stephen's way last Monday evening. The discussion turned on the subject of co-operation in the purchase of feed in large quantities to the advantage of all. Mr. Paul stated that he had just about completed the arrangement for shipping more than 180 pairs of pigeons to fill an order from Kansas.

During the evening Mrs. Malona served some lovely popcorn and grape juice. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. Fehr on El Centro avenue, the first Monday evening of February.

Among those making improvements on their houses—Mrs. Shaner of Sunset boulevard has just completed an addition and is now adding a new porch. Dr. Frost is building an addition to his place on Sunset boulevard. Mr. Livingston, further down the valley, is weatherboarding his home and adding a pergola. Mr. John S. McGroarty is building a new room onto his cabin on the mountain side near Manzanita Drive, and Mr.

Brogden and Mr. Petrotta are each adding improvements to their places.

Home Croft Meeting

At the Home Croft meeting Friday night, which covered about an hour previous to the watch meeting, Mr. Darlington had charge of the topic of the evening. Fertilizers, a homely topic but a most important one, was the subject. Mr. Darlington read a very instructive article on this subject, after which various questions were asked and the topic was pretty thoroughly discussed by Mrs. Hoffman, Dr. Kearney, Mr. Wieman, Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Adam. It was generally conceded that barnyard fertilizer, if it could be procured, would be the very best thing for the soil in the valley. Fertilizer from the chicken pen combined with air slacked lime was said also to be one of the best and this can be had right at hand. The subject of dry farming was also discussed by Mr. Wieman and many interesting points were brought out. It was stated that this soil being light and porous did not need the cultivation that is necessary for a more compact soil.

Mrs. A. H. Hubbard Entertains

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Hubbard of Stephens Way was hostess to the members and friends of the Ladies' Aid of the Federation. The society has decided to take up the study of the women of the Bible, which is both an interesting and important topic. Needlework and pleasant social discussion occupied the time. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were dispensed by the hostess. Mrs. Darlington and Mrs. Dunning will entertain the society next month.

Town Meeting

On account of the rain there was only a small crowd out. Mr. Shiras, chairman of the poultry committee, gave a very interesting and instructive report on the estimate cost of a small plant, including building, run and flock; also the design, size and care of a lamp brooder.

Mr. Rickey, the weather man, reported a 4-inch snow, 2.53 inches rainfall in the last week, the amount for the season being a little less than 7 inches.

New Year's Watch Meeting

An informal program was carried out most successfully at the watch meeting New Year's Eve, which was held at the Club House. Mr. Ashby, with his usual care of manner, delivered a short address appropriate to the occasion. Mr. George Osborne, who possesses a magnificent voice, favored the audience by special request with that ever beautiful song, "The Holy City." He was most heartily encored and responded with "Some Day When You Are Mine."

Mr. Wieman then read a selection on the Origin of New Year Festivities and Customs. Mr. George I. Maxwell next sang a pretty Scotch air and responded to a recall by singing the old favorite, "Annie Laurie." Miss Bertha Fehr, pianist of the evening, then rendered two beautiful piano selections. Miss Fehr, by her unassuming grace and readiness to help, has made herself a favorite with the people. Everyone enjoyed her music.

Miss Zoe Gilbert played an old favorite, responding to an encore. After this a general good social time was enjoyed by all. The fire at this time being just right, Mr. Ashley and Mr. Rockey and others proceeded to pop some corn and by this time it was close to midnight and the bell began tolling the passing of the old year. At 12 o'clock the tolling ceased and the glad peal of the bell announced the birth of another New Year. Miss Gilbert then played Auld Lany Syne and all joined in singing the old refrain and amid the happy congratulations and New Year's wishes the company dispersed to their homes.

REVIVALS IN STYLES

We are rapidly coming back to the frou-frou effects, for the leading French dressmakers are, many of them, lining the insides of their gowns with flounces of some gossamer stuffs which make the skirt stand out, says the Queen (London). Among the fabrics intended for matrons there is a strong desire to return to handsome models, brocades that stand alone, brocaded velvets, or satins with bouquets a la Pompadour, that as far as grace goes it is difficult to improve upon. One of the revivals in styles is a white silk scarf edged with gold fringe, worn with velvet, and called "First Consul." In the day gowns there are wonderful models in which curious mixtures of mousseline, velvet and metallic laces figure. Some of the most effective colors are violets, and there is a large choice in grays. The colorings for evening are yellow, blue, pink, parma, and glycine, all tender and light. The skirts are wide, increasing in tiers with the width of each flounce from waist to hem. A charming addition to girls' evening frocks are the ribbons tipped with roses or tassels on gown or silver bows. In many new models the Louis XV. period and that of the Restoration have not been forgotten.

The mineral output of California during the last year showed a neat increase over the previous twelve months. This state is producing nearly $100,000,000 of mineral wealth annually. Which should keep California ranked in the El Dorado class.

BURBANK

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander and Miss Mary Ginter were the dinner guests of Mrs. I. G. Glenn New Year's day.

W. O. Allen of Los Angeles visited friends in Burbank last week.

Mrs. Key of Los Angeles spent last week in Burbank as a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander.

B. A. Kendall left Tuesday for a five weeks trip to San Francisco and northern California on business.

Mrs. H. A. Rudin has been confined to her bed for several days with a bad cold.

Quite a number of Burbank people attended the Pasadena Rose Tournament New Year's day in spite of the rain.

Mrs. Lovering, who resides at Fourth and Verdugo, suffered a paralytic stroke the early part of the week which affected her speech. Dr. Thompson has charge of the case.

A light extension to the new Sherlock residence has been completed by the municipal light department.

Burbank's Chamber of Commerce holds its annual election next Monday evening.

Four new homes are to be completed during the month of January. All of these improvements will range between $2500 and $5000. J. T. Bate has already started his $3000 house on Magnolia avenue.

F. Curt Miller and Authority

Burbank's representative to a meeting called by the board of supervisors for January 12, at which the question of sewage will come up, is Mr. F. Curt Miller. In an interview with the Progress reporter Mr. Miller told of his experience installing disposal systems.

He has found that where conditions are favorable the electro-chemical system is quite adequate to handle sewage from a city as large as Oklahoma City, Okla., and Santa Monica. Places where this system has proven successful are Dewey, Okla., Tempe, Ariz., New Palestine, Ill., and San Marcos, Brazil, besides many other towns.

The electro-chemical system does not kill the germ by electricity nor introduce any foreign chemical into the sewage. It simply frees those agents already in the sewage which are in themselves great purifying agents.

Mr. Miller should prove a valuable representative at the meeting. He will be able to show that the San Fernando valley towns do not have to join Los Angeles in a sewage disposal district for sanitary and efficient systems.

Burbank's Float Wins Again

At the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena New Year's day Burbank's beautiful rose float depicting Burbank as the gateway of San Fernando valley won fourth prize which included a trophy, a loving cup and a fifty dollar cash award.

Mrs. L. B. Dean, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce, was the originator of the idea of the float and also served as director of its construction and decoration. The float was pronounced a most beautiful entry by all who saw it.

Burbank has won second, third and fourth consecutively at the Tournament besides getting third prize in the Elks' parade in June and fourth in the high school entry in the Fiesta de las Flores in May.

As a means for advertising Burbank, M. C. Paxton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says that three families, one groceryman and family and two ranchers have been brought to Burbank through the appearance of its floats.

New Industries Open

During the past few days five new places of business have opened in Burbank. Among these is the Parker lodging house, which is under the management of Mr. F. E. Parker. Mr. Parker also conducts a waffle and eating house on San Fernando boulevard.

Mr. Henry Storey has opened up a second hand goods emporium, and started by Mrs. Jenkins.

A shooting gallery, operated by E. B. and John Turrill, also opened this week. The Turrills drove from Oregon, their former home, to this place by automobile. The roads were so bad in southern Oregon and northern California that they shipped from Ashland, Ore., to Redding, Cal. The roads from San Francisco on are only bad in spots, according to Mr. E. B. Turrill. All of these places are opened permanently.

Hay Stealer Gets 50 Days

On Monday of this week two Mexicans were arrested by City Marshal Greenwood on the charge of stealing hay belonging to C. W. Anderson and which was stored in the Orville Myers barn. They were tried before Judge H. M. Miller and Tuesday Ralph Laveria was sentenced to fifty days in the county jail while the charge against the other was withdrawn.

Auto Turns Turtle

Sunday morning an automobile headed for San Fernando skidded on the San Fernando boulevard pavement north of the Burbank High school and turned turtle, pinning a Mrs. Daugherty of San Fernando and a Los Angeles nurse under the machine. Mr. Daugherty, who was driving the car, escaped uninjured. The two ladies were taken to the Clara Barton hospital in Los Angeles.

City Board in Session

With all members of Burbank's board of trustees present, the regular weekly town meeting was held Tuesday afternoon. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by City Clerk Miss Emily Peyton and approved.

On motion the city attorney was authorized to have the bonds which were recently voted printed. The city attorney also received a raise in salary. He now receives $50 a month.

Mr. D. E. Lewis appeared before the board and offered to buy the two lots on Upper Orange Grove avenue which belong to the water department and offered for sale some time ago.

UNBLEACHED MUSLIN SPREAD

It is desirable to own a hand-made spread, but the majority of spreads call for expensive materials. However here is a spread which can be duplicated for about $5. The spread is made of unbleached muslin. All over its surface conventional scrolls are outlined by means of huge French knots. On the spread in question white knots are used, but there is no reason why one should not use colored cotton to carry out the color scheme employed in one's bedroom. The edge of the spread is finished with cotton fringe.

In place of a quilting party, why not have a spread party? The work will then be quickly and pleasantly done.—Philadelphia North American.

BOTTLED ORANGE JUICE

Use only oranges well after beginning of season; the first oranges of the season give a bitter juice, while mature fruit does not. A good thermometer will be necessary.

Cut oranges in half and express juice on cone. To each quart of juice add about 3 ounces of sugar or about one-half a jelly glass of sugar. Put in pint bottles filled to bottom of neck. Select corks to fit bottles and heat corks 5 minutes in boiling water to sterilize them. Fit corks tightly into bottles and tie corks down firmly with string. Place a cloth or wire screen in bottom of large pot and lay bottles in horizontal position on the cloth. The cloth protects bottles against direct heat of fire. Fill pot with cold water. Heat very slowly until water of pot reaches 170 degrees Fahrenheit. Keep the water at this temperature 5 minutes. Remove bottles and dip cork end of bottles in melted paraffin to make them air tight. Let bottles

RARE TREAT IN PROGRAM

Mrs. Chauncey L. Higbee of Los Angeles will give the full program tomorrow afternoon before the Tuesday Afternoon club of this city, at the Masonic hall, at 2 o'clock.

This most interesting reader will give "The Two Virtues," an English comedy by Alfred Sutro, impersonating all seven characters. Mrs. Higbee has given the same before the Ebell and Channel clubs of Los Angeles, repeating it at the Ebell club on the 19th inst. and on the 29th will appear at Santa Ana.

"The Two Virtues" has never been given until this year, at the present time the famous actor, E. H. Southern, is starring in the principal male role.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Higbee played a principal role in "The Nativity," given at Christmas time.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Yesterday with the First Lutheran Church of Glendale was a red-letter day. It marked the period when the congregation reached 100 per cent in the increase of its membership during the present pastorate beginning the first of last April. Only once during this period of nine months did it exceed the attendance in its Bible School. Two members were received into the congregation. Newly elected officers were installed. And the congregation celebrated the Holy Communion which marked the beginning of the year 1916 with the most hopeful conditions. It is sincerely desired that the many other people in Glendale who "belong to the house of Luther" and others without a church home, may catch fire from these successful developments of our work and add their personal influence and strength to it.

TO DISCUSS GOOD ROADS

The annual meeting of the Commercial secretaries of the State of California will be held in Redding early in the year. The first quarterly meeting for the year 1916 of the California Development board is to be held in Fresno either the last week of February or early in March. The subjects to be discussed are good roads, diversified farming and co-operative marketing. Prominent speakers will be on the program.

Nothing so becomes the clandestine school fraternity as voluntary dissolution.
